
To Do's

Posted by ksangha - 2008/02/21 21:10

We are having an issue to To Do's, and are wondering if anyone else has experienced this problem. On To Do's that have following checked, the To Do's are not following and thus do not show up on the To Do report. We have run the maintenance utility and it didn't help. We have tried to create a new report, but that didn't seem to help either. It has something to do with the "Following" being checked and those items not following on some specific day. Any ideas or solutions would be helpful?

Mycah, the Sporeggar Quartermaster accepts Glowcaps as currency so there is a Cheap wow gold buy wow power leveling aion wedding dresses wow power leveling small market for them, averaging about 9.20 silver Alliance and 15 silver Horde. While that doesn't seem like much, that still makes a stack of 100 more than nine gold - and, especially for herbalists, it is extremely easy to accumulate that many. Mycah also sells two white Cooking recipes which sell for between two and five gold. wow gold Considering these recipes only cost two Glowcaps, that is a good profit. Recipe: Sporeling Snack : Worth roughly 4.5 gold on the auction house, this is a favorite for hunters everywhere as the pet food it produces a 20-point increase to a pet's stamina and spirit. You can also sell or use the Strange nadoubusi Spores wow power leveling that you collect simultaneously with the Fertile Spores as they are a component of this recipe. Recipe: Clam Bar: Worth about 2.6 gold in Alliance auction houses, this is a straightforward cooking recipe that produces food for characters levels 55+. Nothing incredibly special, but a solid cooking skill nonetheless and Mycah is the only vendor in the game that sells this recipe. This is selling to people who don't care to interact with the Sporeggar and would rather buy it wedding dresses on the auction house. By auctioning these recipes and the items like Strange Spores which are used in their production, you can easily make several extra gold a day, offsetting any repair or skill training costs as you level up to 70. If your recipes aren't selling well on the auction house, you should read up on Valkor's Gold-Making aion gold Guide. It is a comprehensive resource for learning how to master the auction house on your realm and easily make more than 100 gold an hour. It is also consistently updated for free, making it a solid investment.zdm.
